Statistical Programmer

Greenfield Advisors LLC is looking to hire a Statistical Programmer for our Seattle, WA office. We are a boutique firm with 30+ years of experience in analytics and valuation in the real estate arena. We’re a friendly, fairly casual office that places a high premium on producing concrete answers to extremely complicated and abstract real-estate-related situations. Our employees are creative and come from a wide variety of backgrounds.

The successful candidate will be responsible for the following:
- Converting designs and specifications into code.
- Managing project efforts.
- Compiling code and resolving compiler errors.
- Analyzing code to find causes of errors and revising programs.
- Data management and formatting.
- Creating and generating reports.
- Collaborating with fellow team members and product users.
- Adapting and improving knowledge of all related software.
- Learning new software as needed for the changing needs of the firm.
- Documenting your work for future reference.

Requirements:
- Bachelor’s Degree
- Practical experience with the following programs:
  - At least 2 years using R (MATLAB may be acceptable)
  - At least 1 year using PowerShell
  - At least 3 years using VBA (preferably 5 years)
  - At least 3 years using MS Access (preferably 5 years)
  - At least 3 years using SQL
  - Python
- Parallel Computing
- Cloud experience (AWS)
- Demonstrated ability to solve problems.
- Strong analytical and decision making abilities.
- A “can-do” attitude.
- Can translate ‘tech’ for non-technical people.
- Taking responsibility for delivering superior value and client service.
- Working well with people who have diverse abilities, experiences, and perspectives.

We offer a generous compensation package, including:
- A competitive salary, commensurate with experience
- Health, prescription, dental, and vision insurance
- A 125 Cafeteria Plan with company paid HRA. (Flexible Spending and Dependent Care accounts available.)
- Life/AD&D Insurance.
- Retirement 401(k) after one year of employment, with 100% match up to 15% of annual salary (or IRS limits).
- Paid time off and ten days of vacation each year.
This is an on-site, full-time, non-management position. All employees must pass a rigorous background check. U.S. citizens or permanent residents only at this time (VISA sponsorships are not available).

Please send your resume, and a cover letter that speaks directly to the minimum requirements listed above to:
