Visiting Assistant Professor Positions
Department of Statistics
University of Connecticut

The Department of Statistics at the University of Connecticut invites applications for two full-time Visiting Assistant Professor positions to begin in August 2016.

The University of Connecticut (UConn) is entering a transformational period of growth supported by the $1.7B Next Generation Connecticut (http://nextgenct.uconn.edu/) and the $1B Bioscience Connecticut (http://biosciencect.uchc.edu/) investments and a bold new Academic Plan: Path to Excellence (http://issuu.com/uconnprovost/docs/academic-plan-single-hi-optimized_1). As part of these initiatives, UConn has hired more than 450 new faculty members at all ranks during the past three years. We are pleased to continue these investments by inviting applications for faculty positions in the Department of Statistics. For more information regarding the Department of Statistics please visit the department website at www.stat.uconn.edu.

The successful candidate will be expected to share a deep commitment to effective instruction at the undergraduate and graduate levels and to the mentoring of students in their professional development. Successful candidates will be expected to broaden participation among members of under-represented groups; demonstrate through their activities the richness of diversity in the learning experience; integrate multicultural experiences into instructional methods and research tools; contribute to the development of pedagogical techniques designed to meet the needs of diverse learning styles and intellectual interests.

Minimum Qualifications: Ph.D. in statistics, biostatistics, or related field and experience in teaching as well as in research is required. The Department welcomes applicants from all areas of statistics.

Preferred Qualifications: Experience in applied statistics, applied probability, statistical computing, and closely related areas.

Appointment Terms: These are full-time, 9-month, non-tenure track positions with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2016. The initial appointment of the positions is for one year with a possibility of extension for another year. Responsibilities include teaching two undergraduate level courses per semester and conducting research. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and interests.

To Apply: Select “Apply Now” to be redirected to Academic Jobs Online to complete your application. Please include the following: cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, and research statement. Additionally, please follow the instructions in Academic Jobs Online to direct three reference writers to submit letters of reference on your behalf. Evaluation of applicants will begin on February 1, 2016.

At the University of Connecticut, our commitment to excellence is complemented by our commitment to building a culturally diverse community. We actively encourage women, people with disabilities, and members of minority groups to apply. The University of Connecticut is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.
Employment of the successful candidate will be contingent upon the successful completion of a pre-employment criminal background check. All employees are subject to adherence to the State Code of Ethics which may be found at http://www.ct.gov/ethics/site/default.asp.

The University of Connecticut is committed to building and supporting a multicultural and diverse community of students, faculty and staff. The diversity of students, faculty and staff continues to increase, as does the number of honors students, valedictorians and salutatorians who consistently make UConn their top choice. More than 100 research centers and institutes serve the University’s teaching, research, diversity, and outreach missions, leading to UConn’s ranking as one of the nation’s top research universities. UConn’s faculty and staff are the critical link to fostering and expanding our vibrant, multicultural and diverse University community. As an Affirmative Action/Equal Employment Opportunity employer, UConn encourages applications from women, veterans, people with disabilities and members of traditionally underrepresented populations.
