Job Description: Assistant Professor in Statistics

The Department of Mathematics and Statistics at the University of Michigan-Dearborn invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in Statistics at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning September 1, 2018.

The standard teaching load is 18 credit hours per year; occasional late afternoon or evening teaching is expected. To allow more time for advancing their research programs, Assistant Professors receive released time for a total of 9 credit hours (normally 3 courses) to be used during the first 3 years of the 6-year probationary period. Promotion and tenure is based upon a candidate’s performance in teaching, research and service.

Qualifications:
Candidates must have completed a Ph.D. in Statistics, Biostatistics, Data Science or a related field by the starting date of the position. In addition, excellence in teaching at both the undergraduate and graduate levels and an active scholarly agenda are expected. A positive attribute is an interest in involving students in research projects.

Applications:
To apply, please visit https://www.mathjobs.org/jobs/jobs/10721 and submit a cover letter, curriculum vita, graduate transcripts, at least three letters of recommendation, and statements on your teaching philosophy and research program. At least one of the letters of recommendation should address the candidates teaching. Teaching evaluations would also be helpful. All complete applications submitted by November 30, 2017 will receive full consideration. However, the position will remain open until filled. The contact email for this position is casl-stat-search@umich.edu. Members of the search committee will be at the Joint Mathematics Meetings in San Diego, January 11-13, 2018 to interview candidates.
