

A politician wants to estimate the mean age of registered voters in her district. Unfortunately, she does not have a complete list of households. Describe a sampling plan that would be suitable for her purposes.

ANSWER:

The politician may use cluster sampling by letting each county in the district represent a cluster.

↖ Because she will need only some of the clusters/households.